

NOW RECRUITING: YOU!

ACCTS has opportunities for people with military experience to join us in ministering to the world's armed forces! These volunteer positions are very flexible – you don't need to relocate, raise large amounts of money, or completely change your life. You can minister part-time or full-time, raise money if needed to carry out ministry responsibilities such as international travel, and (as most of our staff do) work from your current home. If you are interested in this position listed here, please contact the ACCTS office at 1-800-487-8108 for more information.

U.S. CAPITAL REGION REPRESENTATIVE

Duties: Build relationships between U.S. Christian military personnel and international military personnel in the Washington D.C. area. Contact international military Christians who are assigned to the D.C. area, assist them in the transition to US society/culture, and introduce them to local military Christian fellowships. Encourage local ACCTS associates, regional churches, and Bible study groups to integrate US and international military personnel into their events. Help international ACCTS contacts who visit the region by providing logistics support, host families, meals, etc. Broaden ACCTS' support base and relationships with other military ministries by attending regional ministry conferences and presenting ACCTS' ministry to area churches. Communicate ministry activities to the ACCTS home office and other ACCTS staff.

Skills/Experience Needed: Previous military service strongly preferred. Ability to minister to Christians of varying denominations and theological persuasions needed.

Funding: Self-funded, or raise support. This work-from-home position requires more time than funding. You can raise money as needed for ministry expenses (e.g., travel costs, etc.) or choose to receive tax receipts for personal expenses.

Contact: Executive Director Phil Exner or Deputy Director Bernhard Kaltenbach at 800-487-8108 or send your resume to accts@accts.org.
