

COVID-19 Doesn't Stop Ministry

Despite the proliferation of restrictions on travel and other activity, military ministry continues around the world. ACCTS' focus on helping to establish and grow indigenous military ministries gives national the ability to adapt their ministry to local conditions and opportunities. God's people in the armed forces of our world are still ministering to their coworker's and sharing Christ's hope via phone calls and telecom meetings, checking in on others, and encouraging any who need help at this uncertain time.

ACCTS staff members, too, are carrying out their ministries in different ways. Our staff are still committed to the spiritual growth and encouragement of indigenous military men and women in over 150 nations of the world. Despite travel restrictions, the breadth of ACCTS mission continues now more than ever.

As you read about the virus's spread in nations around the world, please take a moment and join us in prayer for the military Christians in those nations, asking that God give them wisdom and discernment as they help others and share the good news of Christ's redemption.
